His Story

Levan comes from Georgia, and lives in Switzerland since 2015 with his wife and two children aged 5 and 7 years. He chose to leave Georgia to seek adequate treatment for his severely ill wife.

His integration into Switzerland was not easy. However, he has now developed social and professional relationships, and he is proud of his family and two children who speak fluently French.

Levan Renovation

Background

In Georgia, Levan worked in the army and as a forest ranger. When he came to Switzerland, he started working in a paint and renovation business. He decided to set up his own renovation business in September 2019, and registered it in the commercial register. He already has several clients.

«Life is too short, you have to move and try. If it works, all the better, if not, too bad - but you still have to try.»

His Project

Alter Start was useful for Levan to guide his efforts for the creation of a business, calculate the cost price, and provide his first quotations. Similarly, advice on which insurance to take out was key for him. Levan is aware that he took risks when setting up his business and quitting his job as an employee. Levan Renovation has presently more than 5 clients, and is bound to grow rapidly.
